Map Sections - There are 11 map sections as indicated on the thumbnail below. They each overlap slightly with the adjacent section.

This sample shows only one small corner of Atlas page two (indicated in red) at actual size for print testing.

Navigation

There are a number of ways to move around in the Costa Rica PDF Atlas. In Adobe® reader, use the bookmarks to the left to select pages, or “search” to locate specific cities, volcanoes, peaks, beaches and more.

Each Atlas page also has a thumbnail map like the one shown above. The page you are on is highlighted with a blue background, and clicking on any of the other regions will jump you to that page. In this sample you are viewing a section of page two, however the other pages are not included.

Finally, at the edge of each page yellow circles contain the number of the adjacent map linked to the appropriate page (page six, seven, or three in the sample). These numbers also inform you which page to turn to for the next map to the north, south east or west when you are using a printed copy of the atlas.

Central Valley Detail - The Central Valley (indicated in solid blue on the thumbnail) is reproduced on a separate full page map at approximately twice the scale of the rest of the country (area covered by the small sample below is indicated in red).

The coding on the bus stations matches the color and number of the route lines on an included map showing the transportation (bus, air, boat, car ferry, and colectivo/scheduled jeep taxis) available throughout the country. Additionally, a transportation schedule provides departure and contact information, other terminal locations, and pricing.
